PROFILE

I'M Assem Ayyad , i have always been the type of guy who would say i can do it better, i can be better , i believe with hard work and commitment i can reach my full potentials , The idea of being perfect at what i do just makes me happy and thats what i wake up to everyday , i have always been a fan of the industry since the first DVD i bought , first article i read , and first famous divorce i saw , doing what you love for a living is a blessing that i seek and admire and i hope one day i will reach it , im highly motivated for the future and also very scared because not living up to your potentials is a spiritual suicide that am not planning to commit , im very organized as my parents raised me and as i taught myself throw the years i love working beside other people and meet new faces and experiance new things, i'm willing to do whatever for the greater good (Except for watching game of thrones) and im very optimistic in the hard situations and i always look for answers and solutions and i also believe that we can fly if you put your mind into it , overall im just trying to improve and learn and prove myself .
